Excerpt from Colonization and Abolition Contrasted IX. It opposes Colonization on the grounds, that it is a control over freedom; that the coloured people, born here, have as good title to all the advantages of the country as the whites; and that the rights of amalgamation are indispensable to the full scope of freedom, and to the greatest happiness of mankind. There are, doubtless, some Abolitionists who do not profess to go, and who probably would not go, the length and breadth of all and each several of these propositions. It is fair, therefore, to allow to all such the advantage of their own position. We think, however, it will generally be allowed, in view of all that is before the public as evidence on these points, that our statement of this creed is substantially, if not in every particular specifically and exactly, correct. In regard to the first rule, some, if not all, Abolitionists would doubtless admit, if they could long enough be blind to the consequence, that the involuntary servitude of minors and apprentices, and...
