CHAPTER II The Force Of The Dative And Of The Instrumental It must be remembered that we are in the dark as to how the eight I-E. form-groups, called cases, came to acquire their terminations, hence our comparative ignorance of their basic significations. 1 The Dative. 12. The fundamental meaning of the I-E. Dative, as far as we are justified in seeking for one, i. e. abstracting it from the various functional types we know, 2 is thus still a matter of controversy, and this entirely aside from the general character attributed to it in chronological sequence by Empiricists of the Sanctius school, Categorists of the Hermann type, and Logicians like Michelsen. The statements of these theorists are to-day merely of historic interest. For our purposes the beginning is made by the Localists. According to Hartung, 3 to whom the spatial relations natural to the...
