This policy I understand to be the line of action adopted by the Board. As it was considered best, in view of the indeterminate condition of our funds and prospects, to await events, I have availed myself of the interval to formulate my ideas on the foundation of a great University in New Orleans, to which end all our efforts should tend, together with such practical suggestions as look to an early employment of our available means in carrying out Mr. Tulane s intentions. I have now to ask your patient consideration of what must necessarily be a somewhat extended discussion of the matters before you for settlement. It is due to you and due to myself to say that, though my experience sis a practical educator has been long and varied, and I have given close personal attention to matters of university organization, my opportunities for observation have been somewhat circumscribed. Indeed, I may say that there is no absolutely thorough preparation for such a place as that to which you have called me until after the appointment is made. Previous preparation would be merely dilettante in such case, and evince unfitness, rather than fitness, for its actual work. In such a problem as that before us, the...
